grand openings

ENCANTADO A new sister property to Auberge Resorts' famous Auberge du Soleil is in the works near Santa Fe. Located 10 minutes from the plaza, Encantado will feature 65 contemporary adobe-style casitas with private fireplace-warmed terraces, a 10,000-square-foot spa, a gourmet restaurant and, of course, the service, style and strong sense of place we expect from Auberge. Opening this August, with rooms from $475 to $1,275. (877) 262-4666, encantadoresort.com

good sports

The wide range of outdoor activities available at Meadowood includes golfing on the nine-hole walking course, hiking, biking and swimming. But what the resort is best known for are those sports that can be played with a glass of champagne in hand. The croquet glen—two world-class emerald expanses trimmed to 5/32 of an inch and lined with redwoods and oaks—hosts competitions large and small and, when it's dotted with players in traditional white dress, seems quite like a scene from a century ago. Should you wish to break a sweat, tennis pro Doug King (world-ranked from 1978 to 1979) is on hand to lead you through a private session on one of seven tournament-quality courts.

VICEROY Snowmass Village, CO, is getting a $1-billion facelift which includes a 152-room ski-in/ski-out condo residence hotel managed by the Kor Hotel Group. The LEED-certified Viceroy Snowmass will offer fine dining, spa services, a ski valet and all the other amenities that make this an elegant mountain retreat. Slated 2009 opening with residences from $575,000 to $4 million+. (877) 923-0742, snowmassliving.com
