FROM PHOENIX | LAS VEGAS | SANTA FE

SPOTLIGHT SANTA FE

The country's oldest state capital celebrates its 400th anniversary this year. Spend a day catching up on the city's most compelling sights.

1 For jewelry, textiles, and high-quality crafts, go directly to the Palace of the Governors (105 W. Palace Ave.; 505/476-5100; palaceofthegovernors.org), on the plaza's northern side, where Native American artisans from 23 tribes gather daily to sell their handmade goods.

2 Hidden amid a slew of kitschy curio shops, Dressman's Gifts (58 Lincoln Ave.; 505/982-0227; dressmansgifts.com) is the real deal, with a good selection of carved wooden angels and other New Mexican folk art.

3 Built in 1922, La Fonda on the Plaza (100 E. San Francisco St.; 800/523-5002; lafondasantafe.com; doubles from $319) is a landmark Santa Fe hotel with wood vigas (beams), kiva fireplaces, and polished tile floors. The rooftop Bell Tower Bar is the place for sunset cocktails with a view of the Jemez Mountains.

4 Breakfast at Café Pasqual's (121 Don Gaspar Ave.; 505/983-9340; breakfast for two $30), a block off the Plaza, has been a well-loved tradition for 30 years. Lines form early for smoked-trout hash and huevos motuleños.

5 Fresh-baked croissants and other snacks are on hand at Station Coffee (530 S. Guadalupe St.; 505/988-2470), an airy new café in one of the Railyard District's original brick warehouses.

6 Scout for organic meats and greens, hothouse tomatoes, and green chilies at the always-mobbed Santa Fe Farmers' Market (1607 Paseo de Peralta; 505/983-4098; santafefarmersmarket.com), every Saturday morning in the progressive Railyard District.

10 Santa Fe's first luxury resort to open in a decade, Encantado (198 State Rd. 592; 877/262-4666 or 505/946-5700; encantadoresort.com; doubles from $550), from Auberge Resorts, has 65 casitas, a spa, and the most talked-about new restaurant in town.

9 Part roadhouse, part specialty grocer, Tesuque Village Market (138 Tesuque Village Rd.; 505/988-8848) is located just north of the center, in the neighborhood of Tesuque. Refuel with an oven-fired pizza after a hike on the Winsor Trail.

8 Legendary cantina El Farol (808 Canyon Rd.; 505/983-9912; dinner for two $70) dates back to 1835. Stake out a spot in the bar for live music and dancing, or sit on the porch and check out Canyon Road's Friday night gallery crowds.

7 The newest addition to art-filled Canyon Road is Bittersweet Designs (901 Canyon Rd.; 505/660-1953; bittersweetdesigns.com), which sells handcrafted jewelry and journals made with vintage wallpaper.
